DOWNPOUR OF RAIN CHECKS HOSTILITIES

One Division of Russian Army Cut off by Japanese.

12,000 Men Is Said to Be Cut off by Japanese.

[illegible] Mukden has opened the [illegible] downpour of rain of the whole [illegible] and with it a terrifying accompaniment of thunder and lightning. There has been the greatest difficulty in preventing the cavalry's [illegible] and all the Boxer lines have been tied. The men are scarcely able to keep their feet. Every [illegible] are preparing [illegible] to make them.

All the lower ground is under water and Chinese boats from the Hun river are navigating many of the roads and some of the streets. The [illegible] difference is the [illegible] who are under canvas, but all others are soaked to the skin and are sleeping exhausted in wet and water, indifferent to the weather if they can snatch much needed rest.

One advantage is that the rain has [illegible] the movements of the Japanese eastern and southern armies. Quiet reigns over the entire front.

The Chinese population of Mukden is [illegible] Chinese and suffering severely and the villages all around crops, cattle and poultry have been [illegible]

DENVER GRAND JURY IS VIGOROUS IN ITS REPORT

Methods Employed in City and County Election Last May Scathingly Denounced. Savings Bank Law.

[illegible] The grand jury has been in session a [illegible] and has [illegible] 300 witnesses. A number of indictments for alleged fraud at elections were handed down from time to time and a special committee appointed for that purpose made a report on the condition of the books of the city and county treasurer, [illegible] and state treasurer.

The jury was sitting when the failure of the Fidelity was announced and under instructions of the district [illegible] began an investigation in the affairs of the concern. The indictments were the result. Concerning this feature of its work, the [illegible] says:

"During the progress of this investigation the jury [illegible] thoroughly impressed with the laxity of the laws of our state, and the necessity for new and [illegible] laws in reference to safeguarding the interests of depositors in associations of this character. The change in the law permitting building and loan associations to masquerade as savings banks is respectfully [illegible] such associations being enabled thereby to secure the deposits of people under a false application of the true character and real identity of such institutions. The laws in reference to [illegible] for the correctness of said institutions rather than for protecting the interests of their stockholders.

"Relating to the investigation of charges as contained in the report [illegible] in following out the judgment in [illegible] circumstances in regard to the election held on May 17, of this year, for city and county officers, we found that persons representing that paper for one of the two great political parties, had on hand a large force of [illegible] and assembled here for the purpose of carrying said election by such means if necessary, [illegible] forcibly stated. We say that form and [illegible] for it [illegible] key [illegible] of persons of law. This was largely [illegible] by [illegible] of the Colorado National guard, [illegible] patrols, but many officers. We wish here to emphasize [illegible] all part in this disgraceful procedure by [illegible] Governor Peabody, as he flatly and firmly refused to allow the National guard to [illegible] in the notorious business.

A SHOOTING AT GLENWOOD

SERGEANT BOYLE KILLED PRIVATE ALLEN OF THE FORT ROBINSON CAVALRY TROOP IN QUARREL OVER A RACE.

Leadville, Colo., Sept. 9.—A special to the Herald-Democrat from Glenwood Springs says: [illegible] shot and killed Private Pearl A. Allen of the Fort Robinson cavalry troop, who has during the past week engaged in polo games.

The men were in the pool stables and were quarreling over a race run the day before. Allen accused Boyle of holding the horse. Boyle drew a revolver and Allen ran. He attempted to rise when Boyle deliberately walked up to him and placing his revolver to the prone head fired another shot [illegible] instantly.

The sheriff placed Boyle under arrest and the man gave bond [illegible] to the district court without bail.

INVESTIGATING THE WATER RIGHTS OF CRIPPLE CREEK

Private Cable, Sept. 9.—Governor Peabody [illegible] H. R. Carpenter of Colorado Springs and Mr. Preston of Pueblo have been making a [illegible] of the water rights and rights held by this city. The gentlemen were securing evidence and familiarizing themselves with the territory preparatory to the big suit for damages and for water rights by this city against the city of Colorado Springs.

SERIOUS CHARGE MADE BY OFFICIAL

RAILROAD WRECK IN SOUTH CAROLINA IN WHICH FOUR LIVES WERE LOST SAID TO BE DUE TO WANTON

Portsmouth, Va., Sept. 9.—Four persons were killed and 25 [illegible] injured early today when a train on the Seaboard Air Line railroad, consisting of 28 passenger car, a mail car, two day coaches and a sleeping car, was derailed at a trestle just south of the Catawba river in South Carolina and was run into by a locomotive and tender that followed.

The dead:

ENGINEER E. T. BARRENDALE, of Raleigh, [illegible].

FIREMAN [illegible], of [illegible].

MRS. BLACK.

Unidentified woman.

The injured all live in the south and for the most part were not [illegible] hurt.

J. M. Barr, first vice president and general manager of the road, said today that there was evidence of a malicious attempt to wreck the train, a number of spikes having been found disconnected. The locomotive of the passenger train left the track and went down the embankment, [illegible] been passed by the passenger train a short distance east of the point at where the accident occurred ran into the damaged track and fell on top of the passenger train.

STIRRING UP THE RUSSIANS

Activity of the Foreign Revolutionary Organs.

AN APPEAL FOR REVOLT

ALL OF THE DISCONTENTED ARE BEING URGED TO TAKE ADVANTAGE OF OPPORTUNITY TO OVERTHROW AUTOCRACY.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 10—1:55 a. m.—Revolutionary activity is being displayed by some Russophobic revolutionary organs abroad. It is [illegible] that there have been an effort to appeal to all the discontented classes of the Russian population. [illegible] have been smuggled across the border and distributed broadcast in the towns and cities, especially in Polish and Jewish centers, calling on the population to take advantage of the government preoccupation owing to the war, to assist in the work of overthrow the autocracy.

Such propaganda in Russia always results in an increase of violence. The proclamations are addressed to the Jews in particular, but the appeals are made to all the heterodox sects, workmen and socialists, and a new feature is that special appeals are made to soldiers and peasants. Many of the proclamations have been seized and it is proved that they have been printed in London. Until now they have met with little response in Russia proper, but there have been several manifestations in various places in Poland where the population is largely Jewish.

The [illegible] according to the ministry of the interior, have been [illegible] and easily suppressed without violence.

TRAVIS DETHRONED AS GOLF CHAMPION

HOSE OF SUCCUMBING MAN LINK SHOWED MYERS EGAN AND HERRESCHOFF AND WALTER DUNCAN TODAY

Short Hills, N. J., Sept. 9.—With Walter J. Travis dethroned as the champion of American golfers, the honor of succeeding him is to be decided tomorrow on the Baltusrol club links. Esther H. Chandler Egan of the Riverside club of Chicago, or Frederick Herreschoff, of the Shennecock country club of Manchester, will be the new champion, as they are the only survivors of a field of 128 men representing clubs all over the United States who started in the annual tournament last Tuesday. Herreschoff defeated Ormiston at Pittsburg in the third round this morning 4 up and 3 to play, although Ormiston's defeat of Champion Travis yesterday made him a decided favorite. In the semi-final round Herreschoff again displayed excellent form and won 6 up and 5 to play from W. T. West, Camden, N. J. Egan played well in the morning round with Havemeyer of Scarsdale, N. J., but he was a bit wild on the driving while his short game was excellent. He beat Havemeyer four up and 3 to play.

In the semi-final round Egan defeated D. P. Fredericks of Oil City, 2 up and 1 to play.

POLITICAL AND MINER DIES FROM HIS INJURIES.

Special to the Gazette.

Victor, Sept. 9.—John Harrell, who was injured yesterday while at work on the Portland mine, died early this morning from his injuries. Harrell was ascending a ladder from the 1,000 foot level to a stope when one of the rounds gave way. Harrell fell a distance of 80 feet, receiving a fractured skull and internal injuries. He was conveyed to the Victor hospital, where he died shortly later he died.

Deceased was 35 years old and leaves a wife, son and daughter, living in Kansas City, Mo. The remains have been prepared and will be sent to Platt City, Mo., [illegible] Friday morning. Funeral services will be held under the auspices of the I. O. R. M., in which order deceased was a member and carried $500 insurance.

GOVERNOR AND PARTY RETURN TO THE CAPITAL

Special to the Gazette.

Cripple Creek, Sept. 9.—Governor James H. Peabody, family and staff were guests of various gentlemen of the district today. The party visited several of the largest mines in the camp and were greatly surprised at the extent of the underground workings. At 1:30 they returned from their trip to this city. After a few minutes spent at the hotel they left the [illegible] over the Midland Terminal for the capital city, greatly pleased with the 24 hours' entertainment afforded them while in the [illegible] of this district.

SUDDEN DEATH FROM HEART DISEASE IN ALTMAN

Special to the Gazette.

Altman, Colo., Sept. 9.—Anna Keefe, 70 years old and single, died early this morning of heart disease. She was in the act of stepping from the doorstep of a family named Johnson, when she fell forward dead.

So far as could be learned she has no relatives residing in the district and the only one that could be learned is in the state is a niece who lives in Georgetown, Colo. The [illegible] has been notified and will probably take [illegible] instructions for the [illegible]

EFFORT FOR THE EXTRADITION OF ROMAINE FROM KANSAS

Full Text of His Confession of the Vindicator and Independence Plots Removes Discrepancies in Early Reports—His Story Implicates Various Other Members of Western Federation of Miners.

Topeka, Kan., Sept. 9.—An effort will be made [illegible] to secure the extradition of Robert Romaine, who confessed to the officers here that he had a part in the Vindicator and Independence explosions in Colorado. Before this can be brought about it will be necessary that Governor Bailey grant Romaine a pardon from the Kansas penitentiary. He was given an indeterminate sentence yesterday for burglary. Similar pardons have been granted before in Kansas and it is understood that Governor Bailey is willing to take action in this case when the [illegible]

The Topeka officers stated tonight that the Colorado authorities know where to go to arrest two of the men named by Romaine in his confession. It is for this reason that the two names have erased from the sworn confession of Romaine made public today.

The full text of the confession as given out by the officers here is as follows:

ROMAINE'S CONFESSION.

State of Kansas, Shawnee County, ss.

Robert Romaine, of lawful age, being first duly sworn on his oath says:

"I left Canon City and went to Cripple Creek on the 8th of October, 1903, and hung around there until long about the last half of November and went to work on the Golden Cycle under Superintendent Holman.

"When I first went to work there I was charge of the [illegible] and had been missing caps and fuse and wanted me to find out where it was going. I found out that a man named Jess Walters was taking stuff and throwing it over to someone else and I did not know who that was.

"The foreman discharged Walters. The next night I was walking up the street and when in front of the Independence drug store, Frank [illegible] and all came to me and started a struggle about sending this fellow up. We went to the court house and to go over to Cripple Creek. We had words there and [illegible] slapped me and I drew a gun on him when the [illegible] of them struck me. After we got to Cripple Creek we straightened things out and went to drinking, and I got into their confidence.

"The last night while we were in Rooney's restaurant, the matter of getting away with the stuff came up and they jumped me for a stab and wanted to know if I was going to stay and work.

"I said I would if I could, and they said I couldn't unless I joined the union. I said I was willing to join and got to talking about it and they obligated me right there and gave me a card.

The Vindicator Plot.

"That was Wednesday, about the 14th of November. That day they wanted me to go around these places, the Golden Cycle and the Vindicator and find out how to get into them. They [illegible] after [illegible] and wanted me to dispose of it. I couldn't find any way to get in then and told them so.

"The next night they had a scheme to make a machine and wanted to know how to go at it. I had seen one made [illegible] and I got a [illegible] and as the restaurant there and filled it full of dynamite and whittled a round piece of the end and put the [illegible] caps in there.

"I made it there that night, and Foster, McKinney, [illegible] and Davis and Kendrick were there. The next day I went down to the Independence mine and got a Swede pinch-bar there. Lewis Tisell to make it iron prong about 10 inches long and about four inches wide at the top and two inches in it far enough apart to catch a pistol back of the hammer and so that you could fix a string to the hammer and put lifelines with it.

Hicks and Nelson Implicated.

"I took it up the next day and was furnished with a [illegible] piece of the bulldog pattern. They gave the box and the stuff in it to Jim Hicks and Mat Nelson the night [illegible] made it, and about the 11th, I believe, and they took it up to Nelson's house. I never heard anything more of it until after the explosion occurred at the Vindicator.

"I talked with the different people after the explosion but never knew and have never learned how they got into the Vindicator, but it was my belief and understanding that they got in through the Waiting shaft.

"Hicks and Nelson told me themselves they put a wire across the shaft and some one working down there sent for these men, Beck and Cadywell, to come down there, and these three fellows were on top when the explosion happened and I was over at the Golden Cycle.

"It was the 21st or 23rd of November, whichever it was it happened.

"There was nothing more that happened then excepting stealing a little ore and packing it around to make a little money.

Something Stronger Wanted.

"Along in May about the 15th or 17th, we all met at Rooney's again and had another talk about another explosion. I didn't understand it at first and they wanted to know if I couldn't get something stronger than that powder we had used before.

"Now, while I was at Canon City, I worked for a smelting company there under the name of I. G. White and lived at the old smelter on Ninth street. One night some prospectors came there and asked if they could stay there that night and I said they could. The next morning they went up town and I looked into their wagon and found a couple of two-pound cans of glycerine and I took one of them out and hid it under the floor and covered it with sand.

"I took my wife to Cripple Creek Thanksgiving day and I went to see if that stuff was there, and when they found it out there was more and this conversation occurred up at the house. I told them I had a lot of stuff down at Canon City I wanted to get and if [illegible] would help me with me.

Paid Fare With High Grade.

"[illegible] gave me $10 to pay my fare to go to Canon City to get the glycerine and some wire I had and I decided to try to pay my fare. The conductor on the Florence & Cripple Creek line, Captain Strasburg, will promise to remember that a fellow came to him at Victor at the depot and asked if he would take him to Canon City and take his pay in W. P. H. ore. He [illegible] me back I brought a lot of stuff. I had there 16 or 18 cans, and this can of glycerine.

"I also brought a coil of wire containing 500 or 600 feet of wire that I had taken from old man Francis' second-hand store at Canon City a long time before. I had been at his place in Canon City to buy some stuff and while I was there at that time I had taken the coil of wire from the wagon and taken it home.

"Well I took the glycerine and wire that was in a grip over to Mrs. Furney's place, where I stayed till the night of the 6th of June, 1904. It was about 7 o'clock when they [illegible] gated there. They talked over a plan to blow up the depot of the Florence & Cripple Creek road, but my understanding was that no one was to be injured.

Forty or Fifty Involved.

"So they got the stuff about 40 or 50 of them altogether, some being detailed to watch around and tell the rest of the union men to be careful and about 8 o'clock they took it up to the depot. It was about dark and I carried the wire and glycerine. I had detached another iron prong from the other one and [illegible] by the same [illegible] under the demonstration platform to [illegible] the machine in place and I went with him to show how to do it.

"We went up under the platform at a point about under the end of the depot and [illegible] a place there to put the gun along with the iron prong and pistol. I think [illegible] furnished the gun.

"The pistol I had brought with me was fastened to the pistol and carried down through under the railroad track up to the Delmonico shaft, a shaft about 500 feet away from the depot, and fastened the end of it in a chair rung. That was done about 7 or half past 8 o'clock.

"The depot was empty at this time and was used just as a stopping place for the train.

"After this was all fixed everybody went to Cripple Creek and commenced

UNION STORE MEN RETURN

Messrs. Hall and Aitkens Together With an Unknown Third Man Back in the District.

Special to the Gazette.

Cripple Creek, Sept. 9.—J. S. Hall and Frank Aitkens, together with another man whose name they refuse to disclose, returned to the district today. The first two are reported to be members of the Miners' Federation, and [illegible] of the managers of the Interstate Mercantile company. The gentlemen returned on the afternoon train from Canon City.

[illegible] pump gun, and all armed to the teeth they made their way to the Collins hotel. They all declared they had come to Cripple Creek to stay, expecting to reopen their store immediately and were prepared to defend themselves to the last extremity.

Mr. Hall stated to a Gazette representative that they were not members of the Western Federation of Miners and had nothing to do with that organization, but were here for the purpose of taking care of their business. They declined to state which store they would attempt to reopen.

Posting Injunctions.

As soon as the men were registered Mr. Hall took a large roll of printed matter, supposed to be copies of the injunction served on a number of the [illegible] in this city. On the bottom of the posters, printed in large type, was the following paragraph that was omitted in the regular court copies:

"To render a person amenable to an injunction it is neither necessary that he shall be a party to the suit in which the injunction was issued nor to have been actually served with a copy of it, so long as he appears to have actual notice of it."

The gentlemen were accosted by Mayor Shockey and Marshal Crowder while posting several of the bills in the postoffice. The officials informed the grocery managers that they were inviting trouble by parading the streets with such a show of arms and advised them to put part of their weapons up.

A Picturesque Character.

Mr. Hall, who was doing the talking for the grocery men, is a comparatively young man and has many figures tattooed on his person. On the back of one hand, in large black letters are the words "faith, hope and charity." Above this on the wrist is a large wreath. On the back of the other hand is a large heart pierced by an arrow in heavy black lines.

Mr. Hall said to the officers that he was not afraid of the men who had been enjoined by the court but that they were a lot of [illegible] that would shoot them in the back if the chance arose."

The city officials advised the men that they were perfectly safe here, especially if they would put away part of their guns.

The grocery men returned to the Collins hotel after they had visited the old union store, but were refused rooms [illegible] Mrs. Shoot, who is [illegible] of the Federation's attorney, F. J. [illegible] the same time as the grocery store men.

It was learned at a late hour that the returned deported Interstate Mercantile company men and several deported miners are barricaded in the union store in this city and are ready to resist any attack that might be made on them.

DAGO MIKE KNOCKED OUT

HIS SECONDS THREW UP SPONGE IN THE EIGHTH ROUND—WAS FLOORED SIX TIMES IN THE THIRD ROUND.

Denver, Sept. 9.—Harry Forbes, of Chicago, exchampion featherweight, won from Mike Maroney, otherwise "Dago" Mike of Leadville in the eighth round of a go that was scheduled for ten rounds tonight at the Democratic club. Maroney's seconds threw up the sponge when Mike had been knocked down three times and was lying helpless on the floor.

The battle was fast from the start and Forbes went after Mike so vigorously that the latter was practically out when the gong sounded at the end of the third round. During this round he was floored six times by blows on the head and body and took the count each time. He came gamely to the scratch each time, however, and gave a wonderful exhibition of staying power. Forbes practically used himself up by the pace he set and was unable to land a knockout blow, although he seemed to have Mike at his mercy. Although Mike was knocked down or fell from exhaustion nearly two dozen times and in the fifth round staggered to the ropes with blood covering his face and chest, he fought gamely on. Forbes might have ended the mill here but stood compassionately in the center of the ring waiting for the Leadville man to recuperate. This Mike demonstrated he could do to a degree approaching the marvelous.

In the preliminaries Kid Erlenborn knocked out Kid Eddy in the first round, Rube Smith won from Tom Schumacher on a foul in the second and Gus Bezona of Cincinnati knocked out Kid Worton of Denver in the fourth.

CANDIDATES AT CUTLER ACADEMY

TWENTY-ONE PLAYERS READY FOR GRIDIRON PRACTICE JUNEAU WILL BE ASKED TO COACH THEM

Twenty-one boys of Cutler Academy have signified their intention of trying for the football team as soon as active practice starts. A few of them were out last night in front of the building, kicking the ball around.

Among the candidates will be a number of strong players, and the academy aggregation will undoubtedly be a factor to be reckoned with in interscholastic football this year. All of the men have had some experience on the gridiron. What will be done about a coach is not known, though it is probable that Frank Juneau of the [illegible] will be asked to help the team [illegible] of his training.

Manager [illegible] is working to get arrangements perfected so that the boys can get one real week and begin training preliminary for the fall struggle. Besides the foregoing [illegible] a number of others, it is expected [illegible] Captain Morris, Spencer, Kane, Jantzen, Aldebrand, Hurd, Wilbur, Walters, Dorkman, Wilson, McKeman, Lincoln, Beck, Hare, Lauby, Hoover, Willey, Bennett, Burnett and Graham.

ANOTHER TIGER COMES ON FIELD

FIRST NEW PLAYER OF LAST YEAR'S SQUAD TOOK PART IN PRACTICE LAST NIGHT—NINETEEN MEN ARE IN CAMP

The eleventh man of last year's squad of Tigers came out last night when C. A. [illegible] reported for practice. Hedblom played at guard during the season of 1903, and is another of the heavy linemen out as candidates for the season of 1904. He weighs 190 pounds.

Mosteller, from the University of Kansas, reported yesterday morning and last night was out in a suit practicing. Previous to playing on Kansas last year, he was center on the team of Park college, Missouri, and his acquisition adds 180 pounds to the material trying out for positions on the line.

[illegible] of the college was another new man numbered last night among the candidates of the Tigers. Chapman of Central High school of Pueblo, weight 185, is a man added this year, who is expected to be out.

Nineteen men under Captain Lennox and Wheeler, Proctor were out last night, and there are still a number of candidates expected next week.

DO THE DEAD RETURN AT THIS MAN'S BIDDING?

Mysterious Power of Panopathic Professor Makes Human Heart Beat Again in Body of Woman Prepared for the Grave.

HEALS HOPELESS INVALIDS

Of Diseases Pronounced Incurable by Physicians, Without Useless Drugs and Medicines.

Abandons Private Practice and Offers Services Free of Charge to the Sick and Afflicted—Makes the Deaf Hear, the Lame Walk and Cures Those He Heals at Miles Away as Easily as Those Who Call in Person.

New York, Sept. 1.—(Special Correspondence.) William Radde Hadley, the famous professor of panopathy and physiatrics, has again demonstrated his mysterious power over disease. He shows that drugs prescribed by doctors and the surgeon's knife, are often worse than useless, and, by healing hundreds of hopeless invalids pronounced incurable by physicians, he proves his claims that there is no disease he may not cure. In defiance of [illegible] laws and rules of orthodox medical practice and the theories of physicians and specialists, he has made the human heart beat again in the body of a woman prepared for the grave, and performed other seeming miracles of restoration to life and health of men and women given up to death. Indeed, he succeeds in the face of such apparent impossibilities that he appears to possess a healing power unequaled in either ancient or modern times, a power above and beyond that given to ordinary mortals. In comparison the successful operations of the world's greatest specialists become insignificant child's play. Apparently the supposedly incurable diseases, such as paralysis, consumption, heart disease, cancer, deafness, etc., are cured by him just as easily as the more common disorders of humanity. Going still further he has proved that he can cure patients in their own homes thousands of miles away just as quickly and surely as though they came to him in person. To extend the blessing of this wonderful power to mankind there remained but one thing for him to do, and that he has done by abandoning his private practice and offering his services free of charge to all who stand in need. He is quoted as saying that he feels it his religious duty to help the sick and afflicted independent of any reward.

One of the cases that makes possible the belief that Professor Hadley's power approaches supernatural control over diseases, even to the point of death, is that of a Mr. E. C. Bess, of El Campo, Tex., who was rescued from the grave after the doctors had given him up to die, could do nothing to revive him, and left him for dead. Brought to this condition by the combined attack of kidney and liver disease, dropsy and acute articular rheumatism, he suffered the torments of the [illegible] almost insane with pain before the end came. The doctors and their medicines failed utterly. Although he was as good as dead when Professor Hadley's attention was drawn to his case, he was speedily restored to life and health by this panopath's marvelous power, though even Mr. Bess himself confesses that he does not know exactly how this miracle was performed. Another case, almost equally remarkable was that of a Mrs. Hattie McCulley, of San Pedro, Calif., who asserts that he revived the vital spark in her body when she was prepared for the grave, that at the end of a long siege of illness from a complication of diseases her body felt cold and lifeless and doctors said that the end has come. But she says that Professor Hadley made her heart beat again, the blood flew through her veins once more, and warmth returned to her wasted body. Naturally she looks upon her release and restoration to health as passing [illegible] and calls Professor Hadley "a worker of miracles that rival those of the prophets." Professor Hadley saved the life of Charles W. Miller of Columbia Furnace, Va., when threatened with a deadly cancer, without the use of a knife or burning. He restored to perfect health Mrs. M. Worthington, of Egg Harbor, N. J., a woman who had been an invalid for twenty-five years from complicated female troubles, many months bedridden in hospitals, and who had been pronounced hopelessly incurable and given up to die by all her physicians. Yet these are only random instances selected from among the hundreds where Professor Hadley's almost miraculous power has made the bonds of disease fall away as if they were broken chains and restored health and happiness to suffering men and women.

Notwithstanding the announcement that a man of such wonderful ability to heal will hereafter give services and home treatment free to all who ask it, it is most sensational and far-reaching in its effects, since it gives to everyone throughout the country, the poor as well as the rich, an equal opportunity to be cured by availing themselves of this philanthropic offer made by one of the greatest scientists of the age. And it is the more remarkable and fortunate in view of the fact that there is no disease he may not cure.

When questioned in regard to his abandonment of private practice in order to devote himself to this new line of work for humanity, Professor Hadley said:

"Yes, it is true, but I intend to go on curing anyone who is ill, of any disease they may have, just as long as I am able. Indeed, where I cured hundreds before, I expect to cure thousands hereafter, since now neither wealth nor poverty makes any difference in accepting my patients. I have become convinced that as a Christian it is my duty to help the sick and afflicted wherever they may be, wherever they are and whatever their circumstances."

"But how about those at a distance?"

"Distance makes no difference. I can cure those thousands of miles away just as easily as those who come for my [illegible]. I believe it is just as much [illegible] to distance they come for me."

"Do you really mean that anyone who is sick can write to you to be cured, without paying you any money?"

"Exactly. I mean just that. All that anyone who is ill from any cause has to do in order to claim my services, is to write to me, addressing William Wallace Hadley, office 556 D, Madison Avenue, telling me the disease they suffer from most and their principal symptoms, and I will send them a course of home treatment absolutely free of charge. While I am not a millionaire, and I appreciate the expense this may mean, I look upon the restoration to health of my fellow men not as a question of money, but as a duty I owe to humanity. I will have my reward in proving my power to the world, and in showing the uselessness of wasting money on doctors and medicines when it is not necessary."

PRINTERS HOME TRUSTEES TRANSACT MUCH BUSINESS.

The trustees of the Union Printers home listened to protests and grievances yesterday. The character of the residents of the home during the past year was looked into and committees of the management were invited and considered. During the afternoon the board varied the program slightly by taking a drive to Evergreen cemetery for the purpose of looking at the Printers home lots and deciding upon the question of buying another tract for the home. Action on all these matters will be kept secret for some time, following the policy of the board in the past, to act on nothing taken in executive session.

WAS BURIED WITH MASONIC HONORS

FUNERAL OF ROGER GREENOUGH TOOK PLACE YESTERDAY.

MANY FRIENDS PAID TRIBUTE TO MEMORY OF OLD RESIDENT.

The funeral of Roger Greenough took place from the First Baptist church at 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Rev. Duncan Vahnet spoke on the life of Roger Greenough as a soldier, citizen and Christian. The church was crowded with their last respects. Colorado City lodge No. 76, A. F. and A. M., escorted the remains to their last resting place in Fairview cemetery. The Masonic order read its final burial service at the grave.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Maher, son-in-law and daughter of the deceased, arrived from Salt Lake City in time for the obsequies.

J. H. Greenough was finally located at Goldfield, Nev., but too late to attend his father's funeral. The following friends of the family acted as pallbearers: Dr. Briscoe, Anthony Dett, Jack Lyons, J. T. Miller, Ed Love, M. B. Irvine.

ESCAPED WITHOUT INJURY

An exciting incident occurred at the corner of Eighth street and Colorado avenue yesterday afternoon. A couple of horsemen were riding leisurely along, when suddenly a workman from Glen Eaton rounded the corner on a bicycle at a high rate of speed. In an instant he collided with one of the horses and was thrown full and man and wheel went high in the air, the latter making several somersaults before striking the ground. He landed apparently on the back of his neck across the car track, but to the astonishment and relief of the spectators he arose, smiling, picked up his wheel and the contents of his dinner pail and continued on his way.

JAMS, JELLS AND BUTTERS KEEP THE HOUSEWIFE BUSY

Season for Putting Up Fruits Is Here and the Market Is Being Scanned—Prices Take a Tumble and Consumption Is Large.

For the next two weeks the housewives of this city will be extremely busy, for this is the season when the [illegible] put up for the winter months. Some have already commenced operations, as shown by the heavy consumption of fruit during the last week. Prices are now about at bed rock, though somewhat higher than last year. This is due to the enormous consumption of Colorado fruits and the higher prices in the east this year. Peaches, plums, pears and crabapples are all coming in in large quantities, just ripe for eating or for preserving, but within a short time the decline will set in and prices will advance.

What the local markets offer in this line will be seen at a glance at the following: Peaches are coming in only from the northern section of the fruit districts, and the fancy stock is commanding from [illegible] to $1.40 a box. On the Western Slope points this same fruit sells at $1.25. The lower grades, however, are selling locally as low as 40 cents.

Plums in large shipments and of the best stock are selling rapidly at from 60 to 75 cents a box. Bartlett pears are nearly exhausted, but others are taking their place at prices that range [illegible] which are made crab apple jell, range at 75 to 85 cents for a box.

Grapes are not yet coming in plentifully enough for preserving, and they are still high. Concords from the east are [illegible] at 40 cents the basket, but in ten days will be arriving in large shipments and selling [illegible] cents lower, when the big [illegible] on the grape [illegible] will commence. The [illegible] at 17½ cents a pound, but the Colorado crop of this grape is a failure.

Both cooking and eating apples are plentiful and are selling from [illegible] pounds for a quarter. Oranges are scarce and selling from 40 to 50 cents for twelve. Lemons—that summer necessity—are coming in a good supply and selling from 20 to 25 cents a dozen.

Melons Plentiful.

The two great products of Rocky Ford [illegible] the public [illegible] during the last week than any other fruits. The Melon day at Rocky Ford attracted thousands, and these local people also were unable to attend did not, however, go without a melon or a [illegible] cantaloupe. Good sized cantaloupes are selling from 5 to 7 cents each and the melons command 25 and 30 cents. The Texas crop is over and the Rocky Ford now has command of the market.

Tomatoes are popular for the table, and are of good stock. They are selling at 10 and 15 cents a basket. Other vegetables are plentiful, and sweet corn, much of which is grown in local gardens for home use, is a favorite, served hot on the ear. "Spuds" are steady, bringing the retailer about $1.50 a hundred. Eggs are also steady, with no further advance for the last two weeks.

Colorado Springs has been consuming this last summer nearly twice the amount of fruit that it did a year ago, and according to a commission man who has been in the local business for the last nine years, 1904 is one of the best years ever known here. From two to four cars have been arriving every day, which means that from 1,000 boxes to 2,000 boxes of fruit have been consumed by the local trade or consigned to Silver City and various mountain points daily.

DR. SLOCUM URGES STUDENTS TO GET ALL OF COLLEGE LIFE

Because a great [illegible] of students find it inconvenient to attend chapel on Saturday mornings on account of work, President W. F. Slocum yesterday announced that for the year chapel would be held only five times a week, dispensing with the Saturday [illegible].

At chapel yesterday morning President Slocum [illegible] the opening address to the students of the college and academy. He emphasized the value and the necessity of a religious life in connection with the college life and urged every student to become a member of the Y. M. C. A. or Y. W. C. A. of the college, and to identify themselves with other church of the city.

"There are have for education, for an earnest purpose, for work and study," he said. "Begin earnestly, continue earnestly and finish your course. You cannot afford to fail." College life is a community life, and President Slocum urged every student to take an active interest in all the branches of student life, in the recitations, the library, the literary societies, the athletics and the new association, and to become a true and loyal student of Colorado college, helping to build up the intellectual life of the institution. He expressed the hope that athletics would become more general and that every student should have some form of exercise, and spoke of the cordial and pleasant relations that should exist between faculty and student.

"YORK STATE FOLKS."

At the Opera house next Monday evening the charming pastoral play, "York State Folks," will be presented with the original great cast and magnificent scenery. "York State Folks" without doubt is the best play of its kind that has ever been offered, and it is a play that is destined to have a long and successful career. It tells an interesting story of everyday life in a small village and the story is told in a most natural way.

"York State Folks" abounds in auspicious little bits of natural life—the squeaking of the [illegible] gate as people pass through it, followed by the click of the latch, a broken board in the sidewalk that creaks, the floor of the wagon shop, [illegible] have just sprung from the plane, the stopped clock that was wound and struck around to its proper hour, the putting of the family cat out for the night by the careful housewife and the letting of Tabby in again by the old organist when a storm comes up and the patter of the rain is heard outside. It is all delightful, restful, almost as good to the overtired brain as a real trip into the country, where the doughnuts don't come from the bake shop, and the odor of fresh buckwheat cakes wake a fellow for breakfast.

"THE WIZARD OF OZ."

A demonstrative and genuinely enthusiastic audience will greet "The Wizard of Oz" here next Tuesday evening at the Cripple Creek [illegible] Scarecrow and Tin Woodman [illegible] to be filled with such a rapturous gathered of amusement appears that the rafters of the playhouse will echo and re-echo with a roaring tribute to the clever duo who may now consider themselves established national favorites.

In the case of "The Wizard of Oz," the play is decidedly not the whole thing, being merely a captivating fairy tale full of bright stage pictures, pleasing dances, a plethora of tuneful songs, abundance of dainty dances and the [illegible] of good old comic programme. But it is to the credit of Julian Mitchell, the producer of the production, that "The Wizard of Oz" is so fascinating throughout. In its composition there is material for three hours' lively fun; and in these strenuous times what does more, enough or solid good besides than a lively entertaining and continuously cheerful show like "The Wizard of Oz?"

HENRY MILLER AT THE OPERA HOUSE

"Joseph Entangled," the Henry Miller play that is to be done at the Opera house this evening, was written by Henry Arthur Jones, the popular author of "The Liars," "The Case of Rebellious Susan" and other successes. It is said to be brilliantly entertaining and remarkably "Liars" in its theme.

The production here will be the first that has been assayed of the piece on this local stage. Usually Mr. Frohman makes in New York the initial presentation of his acquired foreign plays before exploiting them in any other of the American cities. This departure from his practice is all owing to his new arrangement with Mr. Miller, which came stipulates, that, beside introducing the star hereafter in San Francisco, each year in two or three of the pronounced novelties of the master writers, that the repertoire shall include the new play or plays Mr. Frohman may have selected for Mr. Miller's succeeding winter season in the east. Hence it is "Joseph Entangled," being Miller's new play for the east this winter, is shown in San Francisco prior to its production there, with cast and scenery complete. The play is conceded to be the leading dramatic event of the current London season.

The company that comes here with Mr. Miller is worthy of special mention owing to the admirable qualifications of the respective members. The players consist of Miss Hilda Spong, Miss Jessie Busley, Mr. John Glendinning, Mr. [illegible] Mr. Frederick Tyler, Mr. J. Hartley Manners, Miss Grace Heyes, Mrs. Maggie Fisher, Mr. Stanley Lock, Mr. Charles W. Butler, Mr. Bertram Harrison, Mr. Frank Willard, Mr. Frederick Tyler and others.

THE NEW EMPIRE

The show this week at the Empire is very entertaining and its popularity was again demonstrated by packed houses last night. The audiences are not only large but are very enthusiastic which show their appreciation of the many clever actors which the management always makes it the rule to keep before the public.

Today there will be a special matinee for school children who will be admitted for half the regular price.

The whole company will play at the Highwater Garden in Manitou Sunday afternoon and evening.

Good Short Stories

JUST WHAT GREELEY DID.

George Barton contributes to the current Harper's Weekly some entertaining reminiscences of the humor of [illegible] of his best anecdotes relates to a passage at arms between Elizabeth Cady Stanton, the eminent woman suffragist, and Horace Greeley, on the occasion of a discourse by the former on the right of women to the ballot. In the midst of her talk, Greeley interposed, in his high-pitched voice:

"What would you do in time of war if you had the suffrage?"

This stunned like a poser; but the lady had been before the public too long to be disconcerted by an unexpected question; and she promptly replied:

"Just what you have done, Mr. Greeley—stay at home and urge others to go and fight."

IT WAS A SURE CURE.

"There is no excuse for illegible handwriting," said Miss Jeanette L. Gilder, editor and critic. "A typewriter is one cure for illegibility; care is another cure; and a third cure has been devised by a friend of mine.

"My friend writes well enough herself; she applied the cure to a certain woman who writes miserably. This woman had bothered her with a number of illegible notes, and finally, when one came that was unusually hard to read, my friend sat down and wrote in answer to it:

"'I take great pleasure in accepting your kind invitation to dinner tomorrow evening at 6:30.'

This brought a quick call on the telephone.

"'My note asked you to subscribe to our free ice fund,' the woman said. 'It was not a dinner invitation.'

"'You write so badly,' said my friend.

"'Oh, I'll be very much more careful in the future,' said the woman.

"And since that time, I understand, her writing has been legible enough."—(N. Y. Tribune.

EXAMPLE OF HIS LOQUACITY.

Senator J. C. S. Blackburn is never at a loss for a word, and is ready to talk at a minute's notice. His friends like to joke him about his garrulity, and recently a colleague told this story at a dinner at which Senator Blackburn was to give a toast: "In his younger days my colleague, Mr. Blackburn, was very chivalrous. Asked by a friend to be a second in a duel, Mr. Blackburn readily consented. At sunrise the parties met at the appointed place. It was Mr. Blackburn's duty to say the last words about the terms of the duel. And, gentlemen," continued the speaker, "do you know that duel never took place?"

A murmur of "Why not?" went around the table.

"For a very simple reason," continued the speaker. "When Joe finished speaking it was too dark for a duel."—(N. Y. Tribune.

Political Comment

TOO MANY FLOWERY ORATORS.

It is rumored that our distinguished candidate, Henry Gassaway Davis, will be withdrawn from active participation in the campaign, notwithstanding the assurance of ability given by his second name. The same report was in circulation earlier in the campaign with reference to our venerated exleader, Bryan, who has a facile habit of not confining himself exclusively to the potential issues. The fact is that our Democratic party is so abundantly supplied with oratorical talent that we are frequently embarrassed by the number of speakers and the divergence of opinions, and we have not had time to get the orators together and explain to them the real issues of the campaign.—(Colorado Springs Republican.

CHARACTER IN POLITICS.

David B. Hill's unpopularity in the Democratic party never more strikingly epitomized than it is today, when he has announced his coming retirement from active politics in order not to handicap Judge Parker's candidacy. The Cleveland Democrats always distrusted him, the Bryan Democrats hate him, the Tammany [illegible] fear him, and the fact that at a multitude of [illegible] at a heavy loss at 61 years of age he has commanded [illegible] the confidence of the general public makes a [illegible] on the subject of character in politics.—(Springfield Republican.

PIONEERS WILL CELEBRATE TODAY

Early Settlers of County Will Gather at Stratton Park and Carry Out an Interesting Program.

The El Paso County Pioneers, those who settled in Colorado Springs or the Fountain colony along in '70 and '71, will meet today at Stratton park to take early [illegible]

It is the fifth annual [illegible] of the [illegible] and will be, undoubtedly the biggest and best ever held. This has been a [illegible] with the early [illegible] in the past year or two and it is [illegible] to join in today's reunion and it will be the same [illegible] over the world of [illegible] years ago.

David Mathews, president of the El Paso County Pioneers Association, will be in charge. Mr. A. will be the president, if not now living in the county, Mr. Frank Cutler is [illegible] treasurer and [illegible] active in arranging for today's [illegible].

The program at the park will begin at 10 o'clock this morning and will last through the day and into the evening. [illegible] Mr. Strickler will be the principal speaker of the occasion but other old-[illegible] will say a few words. The program is as follows:

[illegible] of officers.

Reading of minutes of last meeting.

Report of deaths [illegible]

Address—"Death in the Air [illegible]"—Dr. W. M. Strickler.

Song—"Auld Lang Syne"—Mr. and Mrs. [illegible] Wassell.

The audience joining in the chorus.

Song, selected—Mrs. Gerald Barnes.

Song—"[illegible]"—by the Old Settlers.

"[illegible] of Early Days in Colorado"—Irving Howbert.

Wall [illegible]—Dr. W. M. Strickler.

[illegible]—Mrs. E. J. [illegible]

Reading of half an hour.

Song—"The Old Oak Tree"—by the Pioneers.

[illegible]—Mrs. [illegible]

Song—"Home, Sweet Home"—by the Pioneers.

While the old-timers will have the right of way at the park today, if they have not the slightest right to monopolize the day, others are invited and will be [illegible] welcomed. If will be a [illegible] picnic and everyone is supposed to take his or her own dinner.

HEADS WERE BOWED IN GRIEF

Friends of Irving Lowe Deeply Affected at Funeral---Burial at Colorado Wednesday.

With a solemnity which [illegible] of the old [illegible] of relatives and friends the last sad rites were yesterday accorded the remains of Irving Lowe before they were carried to the grave.

The service was held at the family residence, 820 North Cascade avenue, at 1 o'clock in the afternoon. At that hour, surrounding friends of the young man, who had been so suddenly cut off in the building of a career of [illegible] promise, filled the first floor of the house and sat in silence broken only by the sobs of the bereaved relatives. Rev. Edgar W. Work and Rev. Benjamin Brewster conducted the service, the latter reading the Scriptures and Dr. Work offering the words of comfort and hope. He spoke from the text, "God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in time of trouble." At the conclusion of the service the First Presbyterian choir sang, "Lead Kindly Light," this being the only music in connection with the funeral.

The casket, which was covered high with [illegible] of flowers, was then carried out to the funeral car by the following pallbearers, friends of the dead young man: Lieutenant Dennis and Sayers, U. S. A., Fort Logan; Will Davis, Maurice Davis, Theodore Gaale, Robert Bryant, William Howbert and [illegible].

Only the relatives and a few very close friends of the family followed the remains to the cemetery, where the services were private.

MANY OUTSIDE PUPILS ARE ENTERING DEAF-BLIND SCHOOL

The Colorado school for the Deaf and Blind has started out with the most flattering prospects in the history of this institution.

Yesterday Miss Margaret Roberts arrived in the city with 15 deaf and blind pupils from the state of Idaho who are now enrolled in the Colorado institution. Miss May Scott, the Idaho superintendent of public instruction, sent Miss Roberts to this city with the pupils under the agreement between Colorado and Idaho for the instruction of such pupils in this state. Miss Roberts is one of the most prominent political workers of Idaho. Her home is in [illegible]

[illegible] regulation and accountability. She returns to Idaho today.

Superintendent Argo states that there are, besides the 15 received yesterday, 21 non-Colorado pupils in the institution. These are from Nebraska and Wyoming which have no institutions of the kind.

Superintendent Argo states that the enrollment to date is larger than ever before for the same period. The experience of the past is that the full attendance is not reached until the school year is well started and the prospects for the coming year from days indicate an attendance that will tax the capacity of the school as never before.

VOTERS SHOULD REGISTER NOW

CHAIRMAN [illegible] OF REPUBLICAN COUNTY COMMITTEE ISSUES STATEMENT ADVISING PARTY OF CONVENIENCE.

P. B. Stewart, chairman of the Republican county central committee, issued the following statement urging the voters of the party to get registered at once. He says:

A recent canvass of the voters of this city shows that an unusually large number are not registered. All Republicans are urged to attend to their registration at once so as to avoid the crowds that always gather the last two or three weeks of registration during a political campaign.

The committee has engaged two well-known clerks, R. C. Bousfield and O. E. Bishopp, Jr., to remain at the office of the county clerk and recorder, and secure registrations for any and all Republicans desiring to be registered. You will materially help the campaign work by going to the court house and seeing that you are registered. Take your Republican friends and neighbors with you.

MILITIAMEN GET ORDERS TO START RIFLE PRACTICE.

The Colorado Springs companies of the Colorado National guard, Company D and I, have received orders to hold regular range rifle practice once a week from next Wednesday and Thursday.

COLORADO SPRINGS MINING STOCK EXCHANGE

The stock market yesterday was active, 15,000 sold, being well distributed through the mines and prices with prices on the upward trend.

El Paso remained the leader and scored an advance of an eighth over the high figure of the day previous, 1,500 shares changing hands at 89¾. El Paso was followed by Isabella, Gold Dollar, Elkton and Portland in the mines department and several of the properties, all of which climbed a step or two up the ladder. Doctor sold at 4¾, Elkton opened at 64¼ and sold up to 66¾. Gold Dollar sold at 7¾ and Isabella gained a half to 21½. Pharmacist sold at 8¾, a fractional gain over the previous day's sale for the stock.

The list in general showed some new favorites. Keystone was the heavy seller of the day with 15,000 sales at 4¾, a fractional gain over the quotations of the previous day. Beacon Hill-Ajax advanced from 2¾ to 3¾ in two sales with 4,000 shares changing hands. Portland and Cripple Creek climbed a fraction on two trades, Stock and Gold Road sold at a point higher. New Haven was a trader to the extent of 4,000, at a quarter above the last price.

Anchor and Spar were the leaders of miscellaneous department, the former holding from 4¾ per share and the latter selling at 14 and 14¼.

The tone of the market at the close was buoyant.

STRONG CLOSE FOR STOCKS

LATE UPWARD MOVEMENT IN SYMPATHY WITH U. S. STEEL PREFERRED—PRICE AND BONDS STEADY.

New York, Sept. 9.—Reading held the center of the stage today and its violent movement was the dominant influence in the whole market. When it broke to lows than under a point last night it was considered that disclosure of the market and the traders rushed to sellers. Union Pacific also got a point under last night and the Pacific group seemed to be affected by profit taking all day. Following made by vigorous rebound the traders concluded that the early selling had left on the short side of the market considerable short interest. This rushed to cover in the stock and this short covering on their part was considered as another effective fact of the stability of the market with chances favoring a further advance. Some selling of stocks was based on belief in damage to the corn crop. Just as the buying was called to decline in the price. This was attributed in part to the disposition to take profits in it before the appearance of the government monthly report tomorrow. This report is also awaited with interest as a feature of the prospect in that direction. It is evident that the stock market is sensitive to the corn crop news and anything decisive on the point would be likely to have important effect on the market. U. S. Steel preferred was particularly active and firm. It was carried up 2 points and brought into the advance and finally made a new high figure on the movement. Other metal stocks shared in the metal producing companies also represented, including Amalgamated Copper. The development in Rock Island was regarded to some extent with the current rumors that the control of the Chicago & Alton was neglected and neglected by the story.

The late upward movement in sympathy with U. S. Steel preferred made the closing strong. The publication of another weak bank return was of little effect on the market. The banks now have lost about $1,000,000 more cash since the last statement and the active speculation of the week leads to the expectation of a further considerable loan.

Bonds were active and firm. Total sales, par value, $1,320,000.

U. S. Bonds were unchanged.

JUST ONE CORN

is quite enough for most people to pay. What awful agony they give to the poor unfortunate sufferer just when you wish to enjoy yourself the most.

Dr. Johnson's Corn Cure

is made to cure just such cases. It removes them with comparatively little trouble and no pain or pleasure. You simply follow the directions on the package, give it a good trial and you will get the relief you wish.
